A message from the Cuyahoga County Commissioners

Your future is important and is based on the choices you make. It is the job of the community to give you as much information as possible so that you make good choices and reach your goals.

You can be a mentor to your peers and friends by offering them information, encouragement and support. As a mentor you can encourage new ideas that are helpful to your friends as they are faced with the difficult choices that must be made every day.

The issues affecting young people today are truly challenging. This book can be a useful tool – it is our hope that it provides you with the information you will need.

Cuyahoga County Commissioners
The listings in this edition of the Youth Pages are based on information supplied by agency representatives. Inclusion in the directory does not imply endorsement nor does exclusion imply disapproval. Every effort has been made to supply complete and accurate information; however, 211 makes no representation with respect to the accuracy and completeness of the contents of this directory and specifically disclaims any implied responsibility for the accuracy of the information provided and shall in no event be held liable for any loss or damage. Cuyahoga County recommends having a Medical Home. A Medical Home helps create consistent, quality care.

Resources in this directory were chosen for inclusion based on services offered for youths in Cuyahoga County. Agencies may be absent from the directory due to the inclusion/exclusion policy of 211 or for other reasons. 211 also reserves the right to prioritize and limit inclusion. Factors such as staffing, funding and agency participation affect the way in which eligible agencies have been included.

No part of this publication may be reproduced by any means, developed into a database, used for the construction of any commercial mailing list or transmitted in any form or by any means electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the prior written permission of United Way’s 211.

211 is a program of United Way of Greater Cleveland, a nonprofit organization governed by a volunteer board of directors. 211 receives funding from the following major sources:

• Alcohol, Drug Addiction and Mental Health Services Board of Cuyahoga County
• Cuyahoga County Board of County Commissioners
• Cuyahoga County Department of Development
• Cuyahoga County Department of Employment & Family Services
• Cuyahoga County Department of Senior & Adult Services
• Cuyahoga County District Board of Health
• United Way of Greater Cleveland
• Western Reserve Area Agency on Aging

The Youth Pages is made possible through grants from the Cuyahoga County Board of County Commissioners, the Cuyahoga County District Board of Health, Cuyahoga County Family and Children First Council and United Way of Greater Cleveland.

Here are some tips to help you:

- The resources listed in this directory serve youths in Cuyahoga County, although some resources only serve part of the county.
- The directory is divided into sections to make searching easier.
- Don’t know what it means? Check the Glossary on page 227.
- Some of the services in this book will be free and others will have a fee. If there is a charge for a service, it may be a fixed fee (the same amount for everyone), it may be based on your family income (such as a sliding scale) or it may be covered by your health insurance. It’s best to call the agency and ask.
- Fees, hours of operation and services change from time to time. For the most current information, contact the agency.
- “Se habla Español” is included in the description of resources that may offer service in Spanish or may have Spanish-speaking staff available.

Enter our youth pages contest to win great prizes. See page 12 for details.
• If you can’t find the service you’re looking for, don’t give up! Call 211 or (216) 436-2000, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. It’s the number for United Way’s 211. This one number will open the door to thousands of area services.

This guide was produced for you by:

Contacting Resources - important things to remember

Before making your call, think about the problem and what it may take to solve it.

When you call, make sure to explain what type of service or help you need.

Also, be sure to jot down the name of the agency and the date you called.

Here are some questions you may want to ask when you call. You may want to write down the answers to these important questions:

• What services are available?
• Is there a cost? What is it?
• Do I have to be a certain age or live in a certain area to receive service?
• What are the hours?
• Do I need an appointment?
• Where is the agency located?
• What papers, forms and identification do I need?
• Do I need permission from a parent or guardian?
If you make an appointment, write the date and time of the appointment, the directions to the agency, and the phone number and name of the person you would need to call if you have to cancel your appointment.

Lastly, remember to check your options. Check to see if other agencies offer the same service. You may want to call a few agencies and ask them questions about their services before making a choice.

Contacting Resources – What Do I Say?

In case you’re not sure what to say when you call, here are a few samples to help you get started:

“Hello, I am trying to find someplace that will help my friend with his drug abuse problem. Who can I talk to about it and will it be confidential?”

“Hi, I’m calling to talk with someone about finding a job. Who is the person I need to speak with?”

“Hello, I would like to make an appointment to see a doctor. What do I need to do, and do I need my parents’ permission?”
Hotlines and Helplines

There are places you can call when you need someone to talk to, or if you need information right away. Many of the numbers listed are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Basic Needs

Food

Food Pantries/Hot Meals - If you and your family don’t have enough food, food pantries can provide a few days’ supply of food. There are also places that provide free hot meals. For information about where to go for food phone 211 or (216) 436-2000 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

School Lunch - You may be able to get free lunches at school if your family income is at or below a certain amount. Check with your school to see if they have a School Lunch Program and if you qualify.

Summer Lunch - During the summer months there are places you can go to get a free lunch. The Summer Food Service Program provides free lunches at places in the community. Lunches are for those up to 18 years old or with a disability up to age 21 and still in school. Call (800) 481-6885 to find a place near you.

Clothing

Looking for free or low-cost clothing? Thrift stores offer used clothing at a low cost. There are also places that provide used clothing for free if you qualify. For information about thrift stores or places that may offer free clothing call 211 or (216) 436-2000 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Shelter

If you or your family needs a place to stay for whatever reason, shelters provide a temporary place to stay. You may be a victim of domestic violence, evicted from your home or a runaway with no place to stay.

Westhaven Youth Shelter
(216) 941-0062 24/7

Offers crisis intervention and shelter for homeless and runaway youth.

For information about shelters where you and your family may be able to stay together, phone 211 or (216) 436-2000, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Also, 211 can refer you to agencies that can help you with other services such as health care, substance abuse treatment, utilities and support groups. When you don’t know who to call, call 211. Information and referral specialists will answer your calls 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and will direct you to specific agencies.

Who can I talk to?
who can i talk to?

This section focuses on mental health. Mental health is how you think, feel and act in order to find the best way to face life’s situations. It helps you find new and better ways to look at yourself, your life and the people in your life. Mental health includes things like how you handle stress, relate to other people and make decisions.

Maintaining positive mental health is a serious issue. It is just as important as maintaining your physical health.

Stress

There’s a lot going on in your life right now. You are probably juggling a lot of things: school, sports, activities, friends, family, jobs and peer pressure. Each of these may cause stress - but they do not have to take over your life.

Many teens turn to smoking, drinking or other drugs to help cope with stress. Using some of these things may make it feel like the stress has gone away, but it really hasn’t. In fact, using alcohol or other drugs can make you feel depressed or out of control, making matters worse. There are positive ways to tackle stress.

Here are some positive ways to deal with stress:
• Exercise regularly, eat healthy, and get enough rest.
• Develop friendships.

Mental Health Problems

Young people, as well as adults, can develop problems with their mental health. There are many types of mental health disorders, such as depression, and they range from mild to severe.

Some signs that may indicate a mental health problem are:
• Poor school performance
• Withdrawal from friends and activities
• Sadness or hopelessness
• Lack of energy
• Uncontrolled or unusual levels of anger
• Trouble sleeping or wanting to sleep for long periods of time
• Poor feelings about yourself
• Being frequently anxious or worried
• Overeating or lack of appetite
• Using drugs or alcohol
• Extreme mood changes
• Abusive behavior toward others
Who can I talk to?

Are you experiencing feelings similar to the ones listed here or dealing with a distressing situation? If so, then talk to someone.

Often, the best people to talk to are your parents or legal guardians. If you can’t talk to them, seek out support from a trusted adult, friend or school counselor. You may also want to contact some of the agencies listed throughout this section.

If you or someone you know, youth or adult, is experiencing a mental health crisis and needs immediate help, phone Cuyahoga County’s 24-hour mental health line at (216) 623-6888 or call 911.

Teen Suicide

Suicide is a leading cause of death among young people.

Warning signs may include:
- Significant changes in eating or sleeping habits
- Withdrawal from friends, family and regular activities
- Violent actions
- Missing school
- Drug and alcohol abuse
- Unusual neglect of personal appearance
- Constant boredom, poor concentration and a decline in quality of schoolwork - not caring about life

- Physical symptoms such as constant headaches, stomachaches and sleepiness
- Taking unnecessary risks
- Giving away favorite possessions, cleaning up personal spaces (bedroom, school locker) and throwing away belongings
- Talking about suicide
- Negative response to compliments
- Abrupt cheerfulness after bouts of depression

If you have thoughts about suicide, or if you think someone you know may be contemplating suicide, seek help! For immediate help, phone Cuyahoga County’s 24-hour suicide prevention and mental health line at (216) 623-6888 or call 911.

Dealing with Death

Dealing with the death of a relative, close friend, or even someone you don’t know very well can be difficult. If you find you are having difficulty coping after the death of someone, seek help. Talk to a parent, an adult you trust or seek help from one of the agencies listed in this section.

Others sources of information:
The Jason Foundation (offers information about suicide prevention)

jasonfoundation.com
The following agencies offer some type of counseling or support service. Counseling offered varies with each agency and may include services for individuals, families or groups. Some agencies may offer counseling for specific topics such as child abuse, grief or youth issues. Information about services other than counseling is included in the description of the service.

Depending on the type of help you need, you may be able to receive service without having your parents there. You should contact the agency to find out if you need to bring a parent with you or have parental consent. For where to go for more information about your rights and mental health care, go to page 165.

A note about fees: Some of the counseling services listed below are free and others will charge a fee. They may offer a sliding scale or discount. Some agencies may only accept those with certain types of health insurance or coverage, such as Medicaid clients only or only those with private insurance. Some may not accept private insurance at all. When you call, ask them how much the services will cost and ask them to explain to you how payment can be made.

Test yourself:

☐ Have you ever thought you should cut down on your drinking?

☐ Have you ever felt annoyed by others’ criticism of your drinking?

☐ Have you ever felt guilty about your drinking?

☐ Do you feel the need for a drink when you get up to get started for the day?

If you answered “yes” once: you might be experiencing an alcohol-related problem. If you answered “yes” two or more times: there is a strong possibility that an alcohol use problem currently exists.

What Is Addiction?

Addiction is a chronic, but treatable, brain disorder brought on by the use of alcohol, tobacco and other drugs. People who are addicted cannot control their need for alcohol or other drugs, even in the face of negative health, social or legal consequences. This lack of control is the result of changes in the brain brought on by the use of alcohol, tobacco and other drugs. Those changes, in turn, cause behavior changes.

Symptoms of addiction include tolerance (needing to use more of the drug to get the desired effect over time) and withdrawal, a painful or unpleasant physical response when you try to stop using. Many people suffering from addiction deny that they have a problem. Many times they claim they use because they like it.

Facts About Smoking

- The majority of smokers began smoking before age 19; in fact, only one percent of current smokers started smoking at age 21 or older.
- In the U.S., nearly 450,000 individuals die each year as a result of cigarette smoking. That’s more than 1,200 smokers per day!
- Tobacco kills more Americans each year than alcohol, cocaine, crack, heroin, homicide, suicide, car accidents, fire and AIDS combined.
- Teens who smoke are more likely to also start using and abusing alcohol, marijuana and cocaine.
- Hookah smoking (flavored tobacco in a type of water pipe) is not safer than cigarette smoking. It can be just as dangerous and possibly worse. It has not been proven that the water in the pipe filters out harmful chemicals.

Marijuana

Marijuana’s short-term effects include increased appetite, dry mouth and red eyes. Long-term effects can include impact on schoolwork, including brain changes similar to learning disabilities. Recent research suggests a strong relationship between marijuana use and the onset of schizophrenia. Marijuana can remain detectable in an individual’s system for over a month, and a positive drug test can have a serious impact on the ability to get a good job.

Club Drugs

Club drugs are dangerous substances that are being used by youths at raves, dance clubs, concerts and parties. Some of the more popular club drugs include MDMA (Ecstasy), GHB, Rohypnol, Ketamine, Methamphetamine and LSD, many of which are addictive. The use of these drugs can lead to extreme drowsiness and fatigue, extreme loss of memory, aggression, nausea and in some cases, coma or even death. Combined with alcohol, these drugs are even more dangerous.

Inhalants

Inhalants are breathable chemical vapors that cause serious damage to the brain and can cause death even the very first time they’re used. Sniffing inhalants in highly concentrated amounts can be very dangerous. Inhalants can cause hearing loss, cancer and brain damage as well as induce heart failure and death by suffocation.
Steroids
The use of anabolic steroids by teenagers has been on the rise. Many youths are experimenting with steroids to increase their strength, especially if they are athletes, not aware of the major health risks. Using steroids can stunt bone growth and can do permanent damage to the heart, liver and kidneys.

Prescription Drugs

When using a prescription drug:
- Only take prescriptions for the illness or injury for which the doctor prescribed them.
- NEVER go over the dosage listed on the bottle.
- NEVER share your prescribed drugs with anyone or use anyone else’s prescriptions. (A physician prescribes drugs for an individual and for a particular reason.) If taken by the wrong person, a prescribed drug can cause unintended consequences.
- NEVER use anyone else’s prescription drugs, even if it’s someone’s that you know like your parents or a friend. Raiding other’s medicine cabinets, purses, etc., for prescriptions is known as “pharming” and is dangerous!! Many teens are going to “pharm” parties where prescriptions that teens bring from home are mixed in a bowl and taken, sometimes by handfuls, by those at the party. Taking drugs that weren’t prescribed for you is illegal. And taking your own prescriptions, but not in the way prescribed can make you very sick or even kill you.

Fast Facts
- Binge drinking – when you have five or more drinks at one time – can lead to hospitalization and even death.
- Teens who drink are more likely to have unsafe, unprotected sex, increasing their risk of pregnancy and sexually transmitted diseases (STDs).
- In Ohio you must be at least 21 before you can legally buy alcohol and at least 18 before you can legally buy cigarettes.
- Youths using marijuana are more likely to experiment with other illegal drugs or alcohol, steal, be socially withdrawn, experience problems with depression or commit suicide.
- Marijuana and tobacco cigarettes/cigars soaked in Phencyclidine (PCP), referred to as “wet,” make the drug use unpredictable and more dangerous.
Gambling Addiction

Gambling on games such as cards and dice is very popular. On television and on the Internet, gambling is made to look cool and winning money may be exciting. However, many people don’t realize that you can become addicted to gambling, and in Ohio gambling is illegal for anyone under age 18.

The following are warning signs that a gambling problem may exist. Do any of these apply to you or someone you know?

• Gambling more often and for longer periods
• Increasing the amount of money spent on gambling
• Constantly thinking about gambling
• Changing friends or no longer wanting to “hang out” with friends
• Borrowing money to continue to gamble

If you think you or someone you know may have a gambling problem, phone the Problem Gamblers’ 24-Hour Hotline at (800) 589-9966 for information, support and referrals for treatment.

Recreation, volunteering, mentors & more!

This section contains cool places to go to and fun things to do around town, where to find mentoring programs, and opportunities for community service and volunteering.

Recreation

Think about your favorite classes and activities at home or in school. There is probably a place listed in this book where you can learn more about them and find other people with those common interests. Or maybe you want to expand your horizons and learn something new or develop a new favorite interest. There are plenty of amazing opportunities both in and around Cleveland and many of them are listed right here.

Want to learn more about a sport or join a league? Or want to hang out with other people who love animals or art or music, for example? The places that are listed in this section are fun, friendly places to hang out and learn. Most are free or very low cost. All are safe, drug-free environments.

These activities will allow you to focus on positive paths to make you a better, happier person. You can be anything you want to be … it’s up to you!

Mentors

Mentors are people you can look to for support, advice and guidance. They may offer you help with schoolwork, career advice, outings and recreational activities or just friendship. Mentors act as role models and can be a parent, teacher, counselor, friend or volunteer. Many of the resources in this section have programs that provide mentors.

Volunteering

One of the best ways to learn about something is through doing it. Do the following questions describe you?

- Are you someone who likes to get involved?
- Do you like helping people?
- Do you have a desire to have a career?
- Do you like to make a difference?
- Are you interested in learning new skills and having new experiences?

If you answered “yes” to any of these questions, then volunteering may be for you!

- By volunteering, you will have a chance to help other people – sometimes helping them do things they couldn’t do themselves. You will meet new people, gain new skills, and learn more about yourself, too.
• Being a volunteer shows that you have character, commitment, a sense of responsibility and that you care about other people. Successful volunteer experiences may also improve your chances of getting a job, into college or a scholarship.

• Volunteering often leads to new friendships, to finding a mentor, and great references for jobs, careers, college and more.

• Making a difference in someone’s life always makes you feel great about yourself and builds confidence and leadership skills.

For information about potential volunteer opportunities, contact Business Volunteers Unlimited (BVU) at (216) 736-7711 or businessvolunteers.org.

City Recreation and Neighborhood Centers
Your city or neighborhood center may provide many different youth activities such as sports, crafts, arts, drama, tutoring, mentoring and volunteering. Some centers provide services only to residents of their city, while others are open to all. Cities and school districts often have a Community Education or Community Services Department that provides many activities and services. If you don’t see your community listed here, you can call your city or village hall for more information.

General Health

Everyone has health issues that come up at some point in their lives. If you are not feeling well or have concerns about your health, you may want to see a doctor. Seeking medical care promptly is important and a much better option than guessing, especially since untreated or misdiagnosed illnesses may lead to more serious conditions. By knowing what is wrong, you can receive proper treatment and feel your best.

Remember, in case of a medical emergency, dial 911 or go to the nearest emergency room. For non-emergency care, some health services that are available to you are listed in the following pages. This section covers general health, dental health, screening and testing, eating disorders and health information for special conditions. The next section contains information about sexual health and pregnancy.

In addition to the information listed in this section, you can also try the following Web sites:
TeensHealth
teenshealth.org
KidsHealth
kidshealth.org

For information about healthy eating and exercise go to:
The President’s Council on Fitness and Sports
fitness.gov
presidentschallenge.org
(take the fitness challenge!)
U.S. Dept. of Agriculture nutrition.gov
mypyramid.gov (healthy eating tips)
U.S. Dept. of Health and Human Services
healthierus.gov
(tips on fitness, nutrition and healthy lifestyles)

Health Clinics are places you can go to receive health care services. Clinics provide basic medical care that is either free or low cost. If you don’t have health insurance and your family is low-income, you may qualify for the Healthy Families Child Health Insurance Program. Have your parent or guardian call the Employment & Family Services Healthy Start Hotline at (216) 987-7346.

Health services may be anonymous or confidential. It is important to understand the difference between the two terms.

The term anonymous refers to receiving a service without having to provide your name. You are usually given a number, and the only way to get your test results is to have that number. The only people who will know you had any services will be those you choose to tell.
The term confidential means that your name, age, and other important information will be taken, but will not be given out without your permission. When medical tests are involved, they are put in your medical records. A copy of these results is released to you or forwarded to others only when you sign a medical release form.

Laws concerning confidentiality and consent vary depending on how old you are and the type of treatment you need. You may need parental consent before you can receive health care services. The best thing to do is call the agency and ask. For where to go for more information about your rights and health care go to page 165.

Screening and Testing
You may need to be screened or tested to determine if you have a health condition. Screenings are measures to determine the risk or likelihood that you have a disease or medical condition. Testing is when you take a diagnostic test. A diagnostic test is an analysis that determines with a high degree of certainty that a disease or condition may or may not be present. If you are looking for places that provide STD/HIV or pregnancy testing, turn to the Sexual Health section starting on page 105.

Body Piercings and Tattoos
Knowledge is very important when making a decision about body piercing and tattooing. If you are under 18, you may not legally get a body piercing or tattoo from a professional business without the consent of your parent or guardian. Also, you should consider the health risks involved before making a decision. Some of the possible risks include infection, bleeding, scarring, allergies and nerve damage.

To learn more about health risks and laws concerning piercings and tattoos go to:

Eating Disorders

Eating disorders occur when a person turns away from food or uses food to cope with life stresses. They may involve eating too much or not enough. Some disorders cause you to become overly concerned about your body weight or image. Anorexia nervosa and bulimia nervosa are common disorders among teens. Eating little to nothing at all, bad nutritional choices, intense fear of gaining weight and unusually excessive weight loss are typical symptoms of anorexia. The most common symptoms of bulimia include a cycle of excessive eating followed by abusing laxatives or forcing yourself to vomit to get the food out of your system. Binge-eating disorder is characterized by eating an excessive amount of food within a short period of time and by a sense of lack of control over eating during the episode. The binge eating occurs, on average, at least two days a week. With binge-eating disorder you usually do not force yourself to get rid of your food by vomiting or using laxatives.

If eating disorders go untreated, they can cause permanent damage to your body and even result in death. Therefore, it is extremely important that you get help if you feel you or someone you know might have an eating disorder.

Special Conditions

If you or someone you are close to is dealing with an illness or disability, you may feel scared, alone and helpless … but you aren’t. Many agencies can provide information and support for persons who are dealing with or helping others manage a disease or disability such as diabetes, epilepsy, cystic fibrosis, physical disabilities and many others. Support groups offer the chance to meet with others who are experiencing similar situations. Beginning on page 100 are a few resources that can be of help. For additional resources call United Way’s 211 at 211 or (216) 436-2000, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.
The following list contains organizations that you can go to for general health care and information.

Depending on the type of help you need, you may be able to receive service without having a parent or your legal guardian there. You should contact the agency to find out if you need to bring a parent with you or if you need to have parental consent.

Decisions about sex are not easy to make. Having sex can bring about life-changing consequences such as pregnancy or sexually transmitted diseases (STDs). Having sexual relationships involves important, serious decisions.

Sexually Transmitted Diseases (STDs)

- STDs may also be referred to as sexually transmitted infections (STIs). Though slightly different in a literal sense, each term generally refers to the infection you can get from sexual contact with an infected person.

- If you choose to have sex, using latex condoms may reduce the risk of pregnancy and STDs.

- The only sure way to prevent pregnancy and STDs is by abstinence, which means not having sex.

- Any type of sexual contact including oral, anal or vaginal sex puts you at risk of getting an STD.

- Most STDs are spread by sexual contact, either by skin-to-skin contact or the exchange of body fluid. Sharing needles (drugs, tattooing or piercing) is another way to get an STD.

Some STDs may not show any symptoms at all, but some of the more common symptoms may be:

- Drip or discharge from the penis or vagina
- Pain when going to the bathroom
- Vaginal odor
- Sores, bumps or blisters near the genitals, mouth or anus

Experiencing any of these symptoms does not necessarily mean you have an STD. However, it is very important to see your doctor or visit a local clinic as soon as possible if you do experience anything unusual. Most tests are free and confidential.
Pregnancy

There are several signs of pregnancy. Although signs can vary from woman to woman, some very typical ones are:

- Missing a period
- Experiencing a shorter and/or lighter period
- Upset stomach
- Nausea

Having these symptoms does not always mean that you are pregnant. If you have experienced any of these symptoms after being sexually active, see your doctor or visit a clinic for a pregnancy test right away. Most tests are free and confidential.

Birth Control

In Ohio, you do not have to be a certain age to receive birth control, nor is parental consent required. Many of the agencies in this section will provide birth control following a physical.

Abortion

Women under 18 years of age cannot receive an abortion without a legal guardian’s consent. It is possible to request permission from the court if your parent or legal guardian will not give consent. Permission from the court is only granted in certain cases.

Adoption

If you are thinking about adoption for your child, there are agencies that can help (see below).

If you are an adopted child and want to find out more about your birth parents, your adoptive parents or legal guardian must grant consent and initiate a search if you are under age 18. Once you reach age 18, you may receive assistance with your search without their consent.

For referrals to agencies offering adoption information and counseling call 211/First Call For Help at 211 or (216) 436-2000, 24 hours, 7 days a week.

For more information on adoption go to: adoptionnetwork.org
Safe Havens for Newborns
In Ohio, a birth parent (mother or father) may leave a newborn infant who is less than three days (72 hours) old, with any one of the following persons:
• A medical worker in any hospital
• Any officer at a law enforcement agency such as a police station
• A fire department professional
You will not have to give your name. If you choose to do so, you can provide basic health information. If the infant is left with one of the persons listed above and has not been abused or neglected, the birth parent will face no legal consequences.

For more information on teen pregnancy and STDs go to:

Resources for Teen Fathers and Mothers

Parenting a baby can be a difficult and challenging situation for anyone, even more so for teenagers. Both teen mothers and fathers may have questions about what rights and responsibilities they have as a parent and what it takes to be a good parent.

Many teen fathers want to be involved in their children’s lives, but many stray from their parenting responsibilities due to fear, uncertainty, legal issues, family problems and lack of finances. A number of programs in the community understand the specific needs and concerns of fathers and offer various services to help and support them.

For more information about teen parenting and parenting in general go to:

parenting.org

neofathering.net

(information for fathers and families)

Below is a list of agencies that may be able to help both teen mothers and fathers in areas such as child development, nutrition, discipline, safety, effective parenting, financial planning, free childcare, child support issues, moral support and more. For additional resources that may provide legal information and assistance regarding your rights and responsibilities as a parent, go to page 173.

When Parents Don't Live With You

There are lots of reasons why your parents may not be able to live with you. Sometimes parents just can’t provide the proper care for you. They could be very sick and need to be in the hospital or may be in a treatment center for alcohol or drug abuse. Maybe your parents are divorced or separated. It could be that your parent is incarcerated (in prison or jail).

Living with Other Relatives or Foster Parents

If you do not live with your parents, you may have to live with another relative such as a grandparent, sibling, aunt or uncle or a foster parent. A foster parent is someone who is assigned by the court to be your legal guardian temporarily. Foster parents take care of you and provide you with a safe place to live. Because you are living without your parents now does not mean that you will always live without them. Many times you will be able to live with your parent or parents again.

Living without your parents can be difficult. Talking to your parents or others you trust can help you understand and accept the situation and deal with your feelings.

The agencies listed in this section may be able to help you. You can also go to page 19 for a list of places that provide counselors.

Parents in Prison

If you have a parent who is incarcerated (in prison or jail), you are not alone. Thousands of youth are experiencing the same thing. It is not your fault. You may feel shame, embarrassment, anger or fear. You may also miss your parent very much, and want to be in touch with him or her more than you are able. Even though your needs may conflict with the law regarding your parent, they are just as important.

If you are under 18 years old and you want to visit your parent in prison or jail, you will have to have consent from your parent who has custody of you or your legal guardian. You will also have to be accompanied by an adult, in most cases a parent or legal guardian.

When your parent is in prison or jail you may have concerns such as will you be taken care of, will you be able to see your parent, will you be involved in decisions made concerning where you will live and will you be blamed or judged for your parent being in prison.

You may feel sad, angry, confused or blame yourself for what is happening. It’s important that you talk to someone you can trust, like a relative, a teacher, a minister, or a counselor. Some of the resources listed in this section may be able to help you. You can also go to page 19 for a list of places that provide counselors that you can talk to.

If your parent is leaving prison or jail, there is a guide to help them prepare for release. Go to 211cleveland.org
Mentors are people who spend time with you and offer you support and guidance. Some of the resources in this section offer mentors for those whose parent is in prison or jail. For other places that offer mentors look at the resources starting on page 43.

Talking to Your Parents and Other Adults

- Let them know that there is something you want to discuss.
- Pick a time when they are less busy and less stressed.
- Plan ahead what you are going to say. Practice or write it down as it will help organize your thoughts.
- Listen to what they have to say. Active, respectful listening is sometimes just as hard as talking.
- Don’t interrupt. Ask them respectfully to listen to you, too.
- Avoid putting down their ideas. Think about what they have said before responding, even if you disagree.
- Express your thoughts and opinions. Use “I” statements. “I think…” “I feel …”
- Stay cool.
- Don’t yell. You can’t have a thoughtful conversation if you don’t listen and don’t remain calm.

You can also use the tips listed above to help you communicate with your friends. Remember that it is acceptable to disagree and to say “no” to your friends. Your friends should respect your right to refuse to do something and your opinions and differences. Your friendships should be a positive experience in your life, not an extra stress.
Anger

Most anger is the result of your emotions such as fear or sadness and other stresses in your life. To deal with anger you must recognize it. Does your jaw clench? Does your face turn red? Do you feel that you want to hurt someone or something? Learn to recognize your own signs of anger. Once you have determined that you are angry, try to identify ways to manage the situation; is there another side to the issue? Are there more constructive ways of managing the matter that produce better outcomes? Will it be important a month or a year from now? Sometimes just stopping what you are doing, taking yourself out of the situation and thinking about it defuses the anger you are feeling. Once you have thought about managing your anger, deal with the situation calmly and positively.

Family Violence/Abuse

Violence in the home is a serious issue. You may be the witness to violence or you may be the victim. Family violence can lead to physical injury, poor mental health and even death. There are many youths who are physically, mentally or sexually abused. Young people affected by this abuse are more at risk to enter into violent relationships, drop out of school, abuse alcohol and drugs or cause violence themselves. If you are suffering from abuse, there are a number of agencies that will help you. Remember, there are people in your community who know how to help you and want to help you.

Gangs

Many of the gangs in Cleveland are formed around a particular neighborhood and focus on “protecting” that neighborhood. Young people often join gangs because they want to belong to a group and receive recognition. Gangs can be dangerous, especially those that commit serious crimes. Your personal identity is often taken away. Gangs change the focus from what is good for you to what is good for the gang. Those involved in gangs can find themselves getting deeper and deeper into criminal behavior. The best thing to do is stay out of gangs. But if you’re in a gang and need help getting out or if you’re having trouble with a gang, talk to your parents, a teacher or counselor at your school or contact the police.

School Violence

Although many recent incidents of school violence have been reported in the media, in fact, schools remain very safe places. School violence generally takes place in the form of sexual harassment or harassment due to race, religion or sexual orientation. If you are afraid of attending school due to violent threats, talk to a trusted adult immediately. You also can make an anonymous report of any violence, theft, drug or alcohol abuse, sexual harassment, or weapons (or the threat of any bad/violent activity) in schools. See Hotlines and Helplines on page 6.

Bullying

Bullying occurs when a person or group repeatedly tries to harm someone. It can take place in the form of hitting, teasing, name-calling, spreading rumors, threatening, stealing personal property or making sexual remarks. It is a form of violence. If you are being bullied, there are some things you can do:

- Talk to your parents or an adult you trust such as a teacher or guidance counselor.
- Do not blame yourself. Remember, you are the victim in this situation. No one deserves to be bullied or harassed.
- Stay calm and act confident. Do not resort to violence. If bullies know they are not getting to you, they may stop.

For more information about bullying and crime prevention go to:

stopbullyingnow.hrsa.gov

Dating Violence

Violence can occur in a relationship when one person tries to have power or control over the other person. It can be physical, emotional, verbal or financial in nature.

Knowing the warning signs of dating violence can help you make good decisions about who you go out with.

Some warning signs that the person you are dating may become violent or abusive:

- Jealous, controlling, blaming or possessive behavior
- Loses their temper or shows extreme anger
- Threatens you or others
- Puts you down, especially in front of others
- Wants to make all the decisions
- Tries to stop you from spending time with your family or friends
- Monitors you: calls or text messages constantly to check up on you
- Hurts you physically (hits, shoves, etc.)

All relationships may be difficult at times, but understanding what violent or abusive behavior is can help you decide whether this is just a difficult time or your relationship is truly unhealthy. When you are considering a new relationship, be very selective and trust your instincts. Every person deserves to be treated with respect.

Rape

What is rape?

Rape is the forced penetration of the vagina, anus or mouth by an object, penis or other body part when the person has not given their consent to do so. Consent is freely choosing to do something when you feel just as free to say “no.” When someone uses physical force, emotional or physical threat or other types of intimidation to encourage you to do something, that is called coercion and it is wrong. Coercion takes away your ability to freely say “no.”

- Rape is a crime of violence and power.
- Most people who are raped are raped by someone they know.
- Rape is not the victim’s fault.
- If you are using alcohol or drugs, your consent may not be given freely.

Tips to Keep Yourself Safer

- Remain in control. Stay sober and in control of your senses and yourself. If you are in a new environment, be extra cautious of your surroundings.
- Stay with a friend you trust. Travel in pairs and look out for each other.
- Watch your drinks. Do not take an open beverage from anybody or leave your beverage unattended. Someone can place a drug into your beverage that can make you confused or cause memory loss. These “date rape” drugs are colorless, odorless and tasteless.
- Communicate assertively. Be definite when you refuse. Talk to your girlfriend/boyfriend. Do not assume that what you want is what they want. Do not be afraid to say NO firmly and assertively.
- Trust your feelings. If you have stopped seeing someone you really do not like or whom you do not feel good about, do not be alone with that person. Recognize your fears and listen to your inner voice.
- Take a self-defense class. Classes in self-defense can make you feel safer and more confident.
- If possible, carry a cell phone.
When Confronted by an Attacker

• Stay calm. Do NOT panic. Check out the area. Where is the nearest place to go for help?

• Try to escape. Always work to get away. Yell for help, punch, kick and try to run.

• Talk to the attacker. Do not argue, but try to speak to your attacker. Reason with him or her.

• Take mental notes. If you cannot get away, your priority is to survive. Take mental notes about the surroundings, the attacker’s clothing and appearance. Leave something of yours where the attack took place.

What Should You Do if You’ve Been Raped?

• Insure your safety first. Go to a safe place and call 911 or someone you trust to help you.

• Seek medical attention. However, before seeking medical care, DO NOT wash or shower, use the bathroom, brush your teeth or use mouthwash, although you may want to. Even if you think you are not hurt, you might be. You may have been exposed to a Sexually Transmitted Disease (STD) or have become pregnant. Go to the nearest hospital emergency room and tell them you have been raped and need to be examined. If possible, go to the emergency room at Fairview, Hillcrest, Huron or Marymount Hospitals. They have SANE Units with nurses who are specially trained to care for those who have experienced rape or sexual assault.

• By law the hospital must notify the police that a rape has occurred, but you do not have to speak to the police at that time nor do you have to file a report. A hospital advocate from Cleveland Rape Crisis Center can come to be with you during your exam. Ask the hospital to call them and request a hospital advocate.

• Don’t blame yourself. It was not your fault. The only person responsible is the person who forced himself or herself upon you.

• Talk to someone. Seek emotional support by calling the Cleveland Rape Crisis Center’s 24-hour anonymous hotline at (216) 619-6192. Talk to someone who you trust and who will be supportive, such as a friend or family member.

• Take time to heal. Stay involved with a support system. You may have many different types of feelings from time to time…it is a process and you will heal, but you must be patient with yourself; some people heal more quickly than others.

You have the right to fair and equal treatment free from any judgment based on your outward appearance, race, color, national origin, sexual orientation, religion, or disability.

Student Rights

As a student you hold specific rights:

- The right to an education. Every person in the State of Ohio has the right to a free, public education through high school regardless of race, color, religion, sex or national origin.

- The right to due process of law. Students and parents have the right to receive notification of alleged misbehavior and the right to challenge or respond to any subsequent charge.

- The right to free speech or expression. The First and Fourteenth Amendments of the United States Constitution guarantee the freedom of speech or expression to all persons (including youth). Like all rights, these also come with the responsibility to treat others with respect and dignity. Treat others the way you would wish to be treated.

It is important to know that your school locker is not your property, but the property of the school, and may be examined at any time without notification; and even though you own your backpack, the school may search it while you are on school property with good reason.

Many publications are available online that will help you understand more about your rights as they pertain to health, legal, personal and social issues.

For more details about student rights and responsibilities and to download a copy of the guide “Students! Know Your Rights” go to: aclu.org

Your rights and health care: You may or may not need consent from your parent or guardian in order to receive certain health or mental health care services. The laws concerning consent and confidentiality vary depending on how old you are and the type of treatment you need. For more information about your rights and health care/mental health care services and to access a copy of the guide Your Health and the Law: A Guide for Teens, go to acluohio.org/issues/TeenHealth.

If you suspect that you have been discriminated against in any way, make immediate detailed written notes of what happened and then talk to your parent, guardian, or school counselor, or call one of the agencies listed in this book.
For detailed information about discrimination laws go to:

crc.ohio.gov

For information about discrimination and the workplace go to:

youth.eeoc.gov

Knowing your rights is important, but with each right comes an attached responsibility. Just like adults, you also have responsibilities to society:

• Responsibility to respect others and others’ property
• Responsibility to keep your community clean and safe
• Responsibility to maintain honesty
• Responsibility to respect the law and those enforcing it

When you are approached by police officers, respect them and answer their questions. Do not run from them, do not challenge them and do not be afraid. The police are there to help you and to resolve situations. You should also be familiar with the rights you have if the police stop you in your car or if the police request to enter your home. For more information go to: aclu.org

Curfew

There are certain hours when minors (those under 18) cannot be in public places, such as sidewalks, parks and restaurants, and must be in their homes unless they are accompanied by a parent, legal guardian, or other responsible adult. Curfews are normally based on your age, so usually the older you are the later you are permitted to stay out. Since a curfew is a law, it is important that you and your parents know and understand what the curfew laws are in the city where you live. If you have questions about the curfew in your area, the best place to call is your local police department.

Driving

You may be reaching the age to drive. Driving is a privilege and a major responsibility. You need to stay focused and attentive at all times while operating an automobile. In Ohio you must be at least 15-1/2 years old to obtain a temporary driving permit, and a parent or guardian must co-sign the application. You will have to pass a written exam and a vision test. Your temporary permit will be valid for one year. If you are under 18, you will have to take a driver's education course that includes 24 hours of classroom time and eight hours of driving with a certified instructor. You must also document 50 additional hours of driving experience that includes 10 hours of nighttime driving before you can take your driver's license examination. You must be at least 16 years old before you can obtain a driver’s license.
If you are under age 17, you may not drive with more than one non-relative in the car at any time unless your parent or guardian is with you. Depending on your age, there are also certain restrictions about the times you can drive.

Texting or talking on a cellphone while driving can be very distracting and even cause accidents. In some areas it’s against the law.

For detailed information about driving and how to obtain a driver’s license, go to:

Keeping Safe - Internet, Social Networks, Texts and Blogs

Tips to keep you safe:
Don’t give out personal information

In any situation, avoid giving out your name, address, age, social security number, pictures, or any other personal identification. Giving out this information can lead to unwanted problems. If you want to shop online where you need to give out some of this information, make sure you do that with your parent or guardian.

They may act like friends, but they’re really strangers!

Just because you may spend time sending and receiving messages with someone online, doesn’t mean you know them. Some people you correspond with online may act like they are your friend, but they are really strangers. Be defensive when surfing the net and be cautious while communicating with anyone you do not truly know! Don’t agree to meet anyone you don’t know! And even when you know the person, if what they say or want you to do doesn’t seem right, tell an adult you trust.

Don’t be a “Cyberbully”

You may not think you’re being a bully but if you are using technology such as e-mail, instant messaging, text messaging, social networks or blogs to spread rumors, make threats, harass, intimidate or make fun of someone, then you are bullying. This “cyberbullying” is no different from bullying someone face-to-face. You may be breaking the law and could get into a lot of trouble. If you’re being bullied, talk to a parent or other adult you trust. Go to page 150 for more information about bullying.

Restrict who can access your pictures and messages

There are lots of ways for you to communicate with your friends and people you don’t even know. E-mail, text messages and social networks such as MySpace and Facebook are very popular. Now there are also blogging services like Blogger.com and microblogging services like Twitter, which allow you to post very short messages. You may be able to restrict your information so not everyone can view it, so make sure to find out before sending or posting.

Pictures and messages can hurt you!

Sending or posting online (text, pix, email, instant messages, blogs, etc.) nude or semi-nude pictures or videos of yourself or others or messages of a sexual nature is referred to as “sexting.” You may not think you’re doing anything wrong, but what you may not know is that you can be charged with child pornography, which is a felony, even if the photos are of you. These photos and messages may keep you from getting jobs and scholarships or even bring criminal charges. So think before you send!

And REMEMBER, once you send or post it, it may never go away!

After you send or post a message or picture, you’ve lost control over who sees it. Even if you send it to your best friend and think it won’t get passed around, it just might some day. Even if you delete it, it could be out there forever. Keep in mind that people such as college administrators and employers may check these sites to learn more about you. So think hard before you send or post any pictures or messages!!

Voting

Voting is a right and a privilege. By voting, you are exercising your right to express your opinion on issues that affect your future.

To be qualified to vote in Ohio, you must be:

- a U.S. citizen
- 18 years old on or before the day of the General Election in November
- a resident of Ohio for at least 30 days before the day of the election

You must also register to vote 30 days before the election. A 17-year-old may vote in a primary if he or she will turn 18 on or before the General Election. You can register to vote at your school, a public library, the deputy registrar, on the Internet or at the Cuyahoga County Board of Elections.

Anyone in prison for a felony or declared by a judge to be incompetent for voting purposes may not vote.

What school courses do you like more than others? Do you have an interest in art, history or science? Do you like to read, take pictures, or do you have a natural talent in one area or another? Now is the time to explore those interests and think about how they might apply in the adult world.

You may be thinking about what you would like to do on summer vacation or where you would like to get a part-time job. Or if you are a junior or senior in high school, you may be thinking about where you will go to college or what career path you want to take. This section provides information that will help you as you think about your future plans.

Libraries are great resources for almost anything you can imagine. For lots of information on many topics go to ipl.org and click on Teen Space or Kid Space. To find a library near you, go to the list of libraries and branches beginning on page 72.

Schoolwork and Homework
The classes you are taking in school now are meant to prepare you for college and future employment. But academic courses can be difficult. If you are having trouble understanding some of your schoolwork, talk to your teacher or guidance counselor. Tutoring may be available through your school, libraries or agencies in your community.

The Grammar Hotline at Cuyahoga Community College
Provides answers to questions about grammar. September-May M-Th: 10 a.m.-7 p.m.; F: 11 a.m.-2 p.m.; summer hours vary.

HomeworkNow
homeworknow.org

Staying in School
You have probably heard your teachers, parents or other adults tell you to stay in school and earn your high school diploma. Here’s a few reasons why that’s good advice:

- Without a high school diploma it is usually more difficult to find and keep a job.
- Persons with a high school diploma almost always make more money than those without one.
- A high school diploma is a stepping stone to tremendous possibilities…no matter what you want to do.
For information about staying in school, go to:
National Dropout Prevention Center/Network

After High School
You may already be thinking about what you’re going to do once high school is over. Attending a college, university or technical/vocational school are just some of the options that may be available to you. Your guidance counselor at your school has information that will help you prepare for life after high school.

Youth Employment
How old do I have to be to work?
The minimum age to get a job is 14 years old, but there are a few jobs where it is okay to be younger (such as newspaper delivery and babysitting). There are also some hazardous jobs that most people younger than 18 are not legally permitted to do.

Do I need a work permit?
If you are at least 14 years old, but younger than 18, a work permit is generally required to work during the school year. Each time you change jobs, a new permit is needed. However, if you are 16 or 17, you don’t need a permit to work during the summer when school is out, as long as your employer (boss) has proof of your age and has something in writing from your parents stating that it is okay.

Where do I get a work permit?
Go to the office at your school and ask for an application for a work permit. Work permits are free. Follow the directions on the form about how to fill it out and what to do next. To get a work permit, you must have a physical examination by your doctor to make sure you are in good health. If you do not have a doctor, your school may know a doctor that provides work physicals. Ask your school for information.

What should I get paid?
Minimum wage is the least amount of money an employer can legally pay you to work for them, but there are some job situations where it is legal to pay someone less, for example, newspaper delivery.

What hours can I work?
If you are 14 or 15, you can work outside of school hours after 7 a.m. and until 7 p.m. (except from June 1 through Labor Day, when you can work until 9 p.m.).
However, you can work no more than...
- 3 hours on a school day and 18 hours in a school week
- 8 hours on a non-school day and 40 hours in a non-school week

If you are 16 or older, there are no restrictions on the number of hours per day or week you can work.

Is a break required?
Your employer is required to give you a half-hour break for every five straight hours you work.

Where to Get Your Certified Birth Certificate

Contact the Bureau of Vital Statistics located within the city in which you were born. There will be a fee for a certified birth certificate. A certified birth certificate is a copy with a raised seal. Those wishing to obtain a birth certificate must have photo ID, provide the first, middle and last names of their parents, and the name of the hospital where they were born. If you were born in Ohio, birth certificates may also be obtained through the Ohio Dept. of Health. For more information check out their Web site at www.odh.ohio.gov

Where to get a Social Security Card

Social Security cards are obtained through the Social Security Administration. If you’re applying for a Social Security Card for the first time (you have NEVER been assigned a Social Security number before), you will need at least two documents as proof of age, identity and U.S. Citizenship or lawful noncitizen status. These documents are generally a birth certificate and another document such as a school ID card and a health insurance card.

If you are getting a replacement or corrected card, you will need two forms of identification. A birth certificate will not be accepted. All documents must be either an original or certified copy. There is no charge for a Social Security number and card.

For more information or to apply for a Social Security card contact the Social Security Administration at 1-800-772-1213 or go to www.ssa.gov/kids.

Saving + spending

During your lifetime, you could easily spend hundreds of thousands of dollars, have numerous loans, and receive zillions of credit card offers.

How you approach these decisions will have a huge impact on your quality of life. Will you have the peace of mind that comes with money in the bank or always be worrying about how you will pay your bills? Will you be able to afford a comfortable retirement? It may seem silly to be thinking about these things now, but NOW is the time to start forming responsible saving and spending habits.

Saving

If you can put money aside and invest it wisely, it will grow. Your saved money will earn additional money for you. When you borrow money, you have to repay more than what you borrowed. So it is best to have enough money saved so you do not have to borrow money to pay your bills, or you will be paying out more than you have to (leaving you less to save or use in an emergency). As you go out on your own, a top priority should be to build at least enough savings for an “emergency fund.”

Here are some ways to start the saving habit:

• “Pay Yourself First” - Deposit a set amount or percentage of every paycheck or allowance into a savings account.

• Save all your loose coins in a container and deposit them in your savings account every month.

• When you receive “unexpected” money, such as a cash gift, put some of it into savings.

Saving takes discipline. Savers set budgets and stick to them. This usually requires deciding what you really “need” and what you merely “want” (and can put off buying). Savers also spend their money wisely – they avoid buying expensive items they cannot afford, so they will have more for things they do need.

Spending

A consumer is someone who purchases and uses goods and services. Whenever you buy something from the store or purchase services such as getting a haircut, you are a consumer.

Smart consumers do their homework. By doing business with companies with good track records, and knowing as much as they can about the products or services they are considering purchasing, they can save a lot of money, get the product that best suits their needs, and avoid the frustration and distractions caused by a bad buying experience.

Here are some other tips:

• If something sounds too good to be true, it probably is! Don’t ever pay money to receive a “free” prize or lottery/sweepstakes winnings. Be very cautious of great job offers that involve sending money.
• Shop for the best value. Don’t pay more than necessary, but be mindful that a high quality product lasts longer and usually comes with a longer warranty.

• Know who you’re doing business with – whether the company is located down the street or on the Internet. The Better Business Bureau (BBB) offers information about businesses. They can let you know if any complaints have been made against the business and much more! For more information phone the BBB at (216) 241-7678 or go to clevelandbbb.org.

• Avoid identity theft! Do not give your Social Security number, credit card numbers, bank account numbers, personal identification numbers (PINs) or any personal information to an unfamiliar company, whether on-line or off-line.

• Once you’re 18, your signature on a contract will bind you legally. Read and understand all terms in contracts before you sign, and never sign a contract under pressure.

(Cell phone contracts are a good example: Are you willing to pay a big penalty if you change service within two years? What are the specifics of your calling plan and what additional charges may apply?)

Getting Credit

“Credit” means someone is willing to loan you money in exchange for your promise to pay it back with “interest” (the amount you pay to use someone else’s money). Credit has many potential benefits if you use it responsibly. Credit cards, car loans and home loans are all forms of credit.

A “credit report” is a history of how well you have managed credit in the past. If you’ve managed it well, you have a much better chance of getting more credit at a lower rate of interest. A “bad” credit report can result in a loan being refused (or granted only with an extremely high interest rate), and can even affect your ability to rent an apartment or get the job you want. Keys to a good credit history include not bouncing checks, always paying bills on time, and showing consistent savings.

Credit card companies generally do not issue cards for minors (under the age of 18), nor permit cards for minors even with parental cosigners. Normally, it is best to start thinking about credit once you have some form of regular income that is sufficient for paying all of your bills in full. Remember that if you don’t pay credit card bills in full and on time, you’ll almost always be faced with significant interest charges and late fees on your next bill.

Glossary

ACCOMPANIMENT: Taking someone along for support.

ADOLESCENT: A young person who is in the process of developing from a child into an adult, generally age 13 to 19.

ADVOCACY: Supporting a group or a person; working on their behalf.

AFTERCARE: Services given to a client or patient after they have been treated, such as in a hospital or through a drug treatment program.

AIDS (ACQUIRED IMMUNE DEFICIENCY SYNDROME):
AIDS is the final life-threatening stage of HIV (human immunodeficiency virus). The body’s defense system, which keeps us from getting sick, becomes severely damaged, destroying the body’s ability to fight off infection and illness.

ANEMIA: A condition of having a low level of red blood cells or too little hemoglobin in the blood. It results in an insufficient amount of oxygen being carried by the blood. Some symptoms of anemia include extreme fatigue, weakness, dizziness, fainting and shortness of breath.

ANONYMOUS: Your name or other identifying information will not be asked; you will be identified as a number.
ANOREXIA NERVOSA: Eating disorder characterized by a severely distorted body image, malnutrition and unusually excessive weight loss. It can be very serious, even deadly. Most people with anorexia are very thin but don’t see themselves that way. Weight is lost through fasting, excessive exercise and/or purging.

ASSESSMENT: To evaluate a situation in order to determine if a problem or condition exists and its severity.

BINGE-EATING DISORDER: Eating disorder characterized by eating an excessive amount of food within a short period of time and by a sense of lack of control over eating. Usually you do not force yourself to get rid of your food by vomiting or using laxatives.

BULIMIA: Eating disorder characterized by a cycle of binge eating followed by purging of the food. After eating compulsively, a bulimic will throw up, take laxatives or pills to make the body lose water weight, engage in excessive exercise, or fast (eat no food at all). Negative effects include: ulcers, hernias, ruptured stomach or esophagus, dental problems, and even heart attacks.

CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY: Your body has become resistant to a drug(s) and requires increasingly more and more of the drug(s) in order to function normally.

CHRONIC: Lasting a long period of time.

CLINIC: A place to go for outpatient health care that may be part of a hospital or separate health center. Some clinics offer free or low-cost services.

COERCION: To be forced into doing something you do not want to do.

COMPULSIVE: Someone who does something a lot and is unable to stop, such as a compulsive gambler.

CONFIDENTIAL: Your information such as name and age will be taken, but will not be given out without your permission.

CONSUMER: Someone who buys and uses goods and services.

CURFEW: Certain hours during which minors are required by law to be in their homes unless they are accompanied by a parent, legal guardian, or other responsible adult. Youth curfew laws may vary for different cities and ages.

CYBERBULLYING: Using technology such as e-mail, instant messaging, text messaging, social networks or blogs to spread rumors, make threats, harass, intimidate or make fun of someone.
DEPRESSION: A psychiatric disorder with symptoms such as an inability to concentrate, sleep, or eat; to have extreme feelings of sadness, guilt, helplessness and hopelessness.

DIAGNOSTIC TEST: A test to determine the presence or lack of a medical condition.

DISCRIMINATION: Treating a person or group unfairly based on prejudice about race, ethnic group, age, religion, sexual orientation, or gender.

DISPUTE: To argue, debate, or disagree about a situation.

ENRICHMENT: A way to become more knowledgeable; to add to or increase what you already know.

FEE BASED ON INCOME: The service provider will look at what you or your parents earn to determine your ability to pay.

FELONY: A major crime such as murder, arson, rape, etc., that is punishable by imprisonment, large fines, long-term probation, house arrest, etc.

FIXED FEE: The fee for service stays the same for all individuals.

HIV (HUMAN IMMUNODEFICIENCY VIRUS): HIV is the virus that causes AIDS by breaking down the body's system for protecting itself. This leaves an infected person open to attack by many different illnesses which would not normally be a threat to a healthy person.

GUARDIAN: Someone who is legally responsible for another person’s health and well-being.

IMMUNIZATION: Usually given as a shot to protect you from disease and to prevent the spread of disease.

INCARCERATED: To be confined (locked up) in a prison or jail.

IN-CRISIS: When a person is in a very stressful situation that may change their life.

INPATIENT: A patient who needs to stay overnight or longer in a hospital or clinic for treatment.

INTERVENTION: To interrupt or to come in between in order to settle or stop a situation.

MEDIATION: An attempt by someone to bring about a peaceful settlement between two parties.

MENTOR: A trusted counselor, teacher, or other adult who helps to guide you. A person that you look up to.
Glossary

MISDEMEANOR: Any minor offense such as underage drinking, shoplifting, etc., that can have punishment of fines, community service, etc.

OUTPATIENT: A patient in a clinic, hospital, counseling service, etc., whose treatment does not require an overnight stay.

OUTREACH: An attempt to inform people about services and to try to get them to use the service. May be targeted to specific populations.

PEER: Person who has equal standing with another or others, as in rank, class, or age.

PHARMING: Going through others’ medicine cabinets, purses, bags, etc., in order to find and take their prescription drugs.

PHARM PARTIES: Parties where the guests bring prescriptions, their own and others. All the pills are combined in a bowl and the participants take them, sometimes by handfuls, which can result in deadly consequences.

PREJUDICE: A judgment or opinion that is formed without knowing or examining the facts (to like or dislike someone or something without good reason).

PREVENTION: To stop something from happening through education.

PSYCHIATRIC: Branch of medicine dealing with disorders of the mind.

REFERRAL: When one agency tells you where to go to get the help you need.

REHABILITATION: Using medical treatment, physical or psychological therapies, or other forms of treatment to bring about the best possible state of health.

SCREENING (HEALTH SCREENING): A test to determine if there is any chance that you have a disease or medical condition.

SEXTING: Sending electronically or posting online nude or semi-nude pictures or videos of yourself or others or messages of a sexual nature.

SICKLE CELL ANEMIA: An inherited anemia that causes red blood cell dysfunction. Occurs mostly in African-Americans. Some symptoms include fever, joint pain and infections.
Acknowledgements

A project like the Youth Pages requires commitment and many hours of hard work. We greatly appreciate the high level of commitment provided by all involved. A very special thanks goes out to 211 staff for all of the time and effort they spent on compiling and updating the resources listed in this guide and the United Way marketing department staff for editing and working on the layout and design of this guide.

The following representatives of community organizations were very helpful in reviewing the contents of the various sections of the guide, providing additional resources and valuable feedback: Vanessa Beard, Grant Coordinator, Cuyahoga County District Board of Health; Melissa Bilancini, ACLU; Celia Huffman, Youth Services Manager, Cuyahoga County Public Library; Jim Joyner; Alex Leslie, Community Education Coordinator, Cleveland Rape Crisis; Karen McHenry, Program Manager, Homeless Youth Program; Alicia Petrella, Youth Development Director, Partnership for a Safer Cleveland; Nancy Schaumburg, SAY Coalition Coordinator, Bellefaire JCB; Mike Walker, Executive Director, Partnership for a Safer Cleveland; David Weiss, President, Better Business Bureau – Cleveland; Brad Wyner, Musical Director, Teens 2 Homes Community Chorus, Bellefaire JCB; Robin Martin, Director, Cuyahoga County Family and Children First Council.

STDs (SEXUALLY TRANSMITTED DISEASES): Any of various diseases including herpes, HIV, chlamydia, gonorrhea and syphilis that are contracted through any sexual contact. Also known as STIs (Sexually Transmitted Infections).

STIPEND: A regular or fixed sum of money paid for services; money used for a specific purpose.

SUBSTANCE ABUSE: To intentionally misuse alcohol or other drugs. The improper use of a drug.

THIRD PARTY PAYMENT: Accepts payment from health insurance provider or other source.

TRANSGERDER: To transcend one’s gender. Individuals who do not identify with the traditional gender roles of their biological sex. Also refers to those who choose non-traditional ways for gender expression, such as transsexuals, cross-dressers, drag kings and queens.

TREATMENT: To provide care for a physical or mental health condition.
The following youth contributed to the development of this guide by providing valuable reviews and suggestions for its contents: MyCom Youth Design Team, Partnership for a Safer Cleveland; Teens 2 Homes Youth Leadership Council at Bellefaire JCB; SAY (Social Advocates for Youth) Coalition at Bellefaire JCB.

Information, agencies, facts and the needs of young people are always changing. Your assistance is critical in keeping this guide updated, accurate and informative. Please direct your thoughts to fcfh@uws.org. Thank you!
